Objectives:

- Explore the "Four Pillars of Ethical Behavior" framework to resolve complex "right vs. right" dilemmas commonly encountered in clinical and administrative settings.
- Examine strategies to evaluate potential decisions against legal standards, organizational mission statements, and personal conscience.
- Learn proactive strategies to mitigate the "Big Four" integrity eroders—greed, speed, laziness, and hazziness—within professional behavioral health teams.
- Review the ethical implications of emerging AI and algorithmic tools to ensure innovation remains balanced with human-centered care and equitable decision-making.
